2.3 TECHNICAL SPECIFICATION OF REQUIREMENT

2.3.1 Bidders must adhere strictly to all requirements of this ITT. No changes, substitutions or other alterations to the requirements specification stipulated in this ITT document will be accepted unless approved in writing by NPA MAD Ukraine.

2.4 NO COMMITMENT

2.4.1 This ITT does not commit NPA MAD Ukraine to award a contract or to pay any costs incurred in the preparation or submission of bids.

2.4.2 NPA MAD Ukraine reserves the right to reject any or all bids received in response to this ITT.

2.4.4 NPA MAD Ukraine reserves the right to increase or decrease the unit quantity in any subsequent.

2.5 NEGOTIATIONS

- 2.5.1 NPA MAD Ukraine reserves the right to negotiate further with any or all of the bidders in the event that only one compliant bid has been received and the price is not deemed competitive, that bids are for exactly the same price and it is not possible to identify a winner, or that offers received barely meet the minimum threshold and no clear winner is identified.

2.7 BIDS EVALUATION

The evaluation of bids shall be conducted in three sequential stages:

- 2.7.1 Stage one - Preliminary evaluation
Bids will be checked for their compliance with formal and eligibility criteria stated in this Tender Document. Preliminary evaluation will determine the eligibility of the bidder and the administrative compliance and responsiveness/completeness of the bids received. The preliminary evaluation is determined on pass/fail basis and only bids that meet the mandatory criteria will be accepted for further evaluation.
- 2.7.2 Stage two – Technical evaluation
Bids that pass the preliminary evaluation are subjected to a technical evaluation against the technical and qualification evaluation criteria derived from the requirements specification, as well as from any qualification conditions as specified in this Tender Document. The technical evaluation is determined on pass/fail basis and only offers that meet the requirements are considered further. An offer that greatly exceeds the requirements will be ranked the same as one that just meets those same requirements.
- 2.7.3 Stage three – Financial evaluation
Offers that have reached this stage are subjected to financial assessment which assesses the price (/cost) and any related commercial terms. The lowest priced offer that meets the minimum technical requirements is considered as the one that offers best value for money. However, it is not necessary that the evaluation will be based solely on the stated item price. Commercial terms such as stock availability and discounts will also be considered in the financial evaluation process.

- 1.2 Workers shall not have to hand in deposits, identity papers or passports to the employer and shall be free to terminate the employment with a reasonable period of notice.

2. Labour unions and collective bargaining (ILO Conventions nos. 87, 98 and 135 and 154)

- 2.1 Workers shall, with no exceptions, have the right to join or establish labour unions of their own choice, and to engage in collective bargaining.
- 2.2 The employer shall not discriminate against labour union representatives, or prevent them from engaging in work for the labour union.
- 2.3 If these rights are limited by law, the employer shall facilitate, and under no circumstances prevent, parallel mechanisms for free and independent organising and bargaining.

3. Child labour (UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, ILO Conventions nos. 138, 182 and 79 and ILO Recommendation no. 146)

- 3.1 Children below the age of 18 shall not perform work that endangers their health or safety, including working at night.
- 3.2 Children below the age of 15 (14 or 16 in some countries) shall not perform work that may harm their education.
- 3.3 New recruitment of child workers in violation of the above-mentioned conventions is unacceptable. If such child labour is already taking place, efforts must be made to phase this out quickly. At the same time, conditions must be put in place to give the children the opportunity to meet their subsistence requirements and to get an education until the child has reached the statutory school-leaving age.

4. Discrimination (ILO Conventions nos. 100 and 111 and the UN Convention on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women)

- 4.1 No form of discrimination based on ethnicity, religion, age, disability, gender, marital status, sexual orientation, labour union membership or political affiliation shall take place in the labour market.
- 4.2 Protection must be established against sexually intrusive, threatening, abusive or exploitative behaviour and against discrimination or dismissal on unjustifiable grounds such as marriage, pregnancy, parenthood or HIV status.

5. Brutal treatment

- 5.1 Physical abuse or punishment, or the threat of physical abuse, shall be prohibited. The same applies to sexual or other abuse, and various forms of humiliations.

6. Health, safety and the environment (ILO Convention no. 155 and Recommendation no. 164)

- 6.1 Work must be undertaken to ensure that workers have a safe and healthy working environment. Necessary measures must be implemented to prevent and minimise accidents and negative health effects as a result of, or related to, conditions in the work place.
- 6.2 Workers must receive regular and documented training in health and safety. Health and safety training must be repeated for new employees.
- 6.3 Workers must have access to clean sanitation facilities and safe drinking water. If relevant, the employer must also ensure access to facilities for safe food storage.
- 6.4 If the employer provides accommodation, this must be clean, safe and adequately ventilated, with access to clean sanitation facilities and safe drinking water.

7. Wages (ILO Convention no. 131)

- 7.1 Workers' wages must at minimum comply with national minimum wage provisions or industry standards, and must always be sufficient to cover basic needs and a bit extra for savings or unforeseen expenses.
- 7.2 Wage conditions and the payment of wages must be stipulated in writing before work commences. The agreement must be understandable to the worker.
- 7.3 Wage deductions as a disciplinary reaction shall not be permitted.

8. Working hours (ILO Conventions nos. 1 and 14)

- 8.1 The working hours shall comply with national law or industry standards, and shall not exceed the working hours stipulated in applicable international conventions. It is recommended that the working hours per week do not exceed 48 hours (8 hours per day).
- 8.2 Workers must have at least one day off a week.
- 8.3 Overtime must be limited. It is recommended that maximum 12 hours of overtime a week be permitted.
- 8.4 Workers must receive overtime pay, at minimum in accordance with applicable law.

9. Ordinary employment

- 9.1 Obligations to workers stipulated in international conventions and/or national laws and regulations about ordinary employment, shall not be circumvented by the use of short-term contracts (such as the use of contract workers, casual workers and day labourers), subcontractors or other employment relationships.
- 9.2 All workers are entitled to an employment contract in a language they understand.
- 9.3 Apprenticeship programmes shall be clearly defined in terms of their duration and content.

ISSUES OUTSIDE OF THE WORKPLACE

10. Indigenous and tribal peoples (ILO Convention 169) and marginalised groups

- 10.1 The production, and the extraction of raw materials for production, shall not contribute to the destruction of the resource and income basis for indigenous and tribal peoples and other marginalised groups, by for instance occupying large areas of land or other natural resources on which these people and populations depend.
- 10.2 In their production, actions, investments or commercial projects, any business partner, subcontractor or subsidiary shall respect the principle of free, prior and informed consent (FPIC), which states that indigenous and tribal communities have the right to give or withhold consent to proposed projects that can affect the land they usually own, occupy or otherwise use.

11. The environment

- 11.1 Environmental measures must be considered for the entire production and distribution chain, from the production of raw materials to the sale of the final product. The goal shall be to protect the local, regional and global environment. The local environment at the place of production shall not be overexploited or harmed by pollution.
- 11.2 National and international environmental legislation and regulations must be complied with.
- 11.3 Relevant emission permits must be obtained where necessary.
- 11.4 Hazardous chemicals and other substances must be handled in a responsible manner.

12. Supplier routines and follow-up

Management systems are central to the implementation of standards for ethical trade. The Norwegian People's Aid encourages our suppliers to establish systems and routines that support the implementation of these:

- The supplier appoints a person central in its organisation to be responsible for the implementation of the ethical guidelines in the supplier's own enterprise and its supply chain.
- The supplier makes the guidelines known to all relevant sections of its enterprise.
- Unless agreed upon in advance, the supplier obtains consent from the Norwegian People's Aid before subcontracting its production or parts of its production.
- The supplier must know where goods ordered by the Norwegian People's Aid are produced.

13. Respect for human rights and international humanitarian law

On 16 June 2011, the UN Human Rights Council adopted the Guiding Principles for the implementation of the UN's "Protect, Respect and Remedy" framework. The UN Principles provide an authoritative global standard to prevent and handle the risk of negative human rights effects from business activities.

Guiding Principles detail the significance of the enterprise's responsibility to respect human rights, which is also an important part of Principle 1 of the Global Compact, which encourages enterprises to support and respect the protection of internationally recognised human rights.

In line with these principles, the Norwegian People's Aid expects all suppliers to respect internationally recognised human rights. The guiding principles specifically state that: "Moreover, in situations of armed conflict enterprises should respect the standards of international humanitarian law", and the Norwegian People's Aid expects our suppliers to respect the standards of international humanitarian law in situations where these apply.

14. Corruption

All forms of bribery are unacceptable, including the use of alternative channels to secure illegitimate private or work-related advantages for customers, agents, contractors, suppliers or their employees, as well as for civil servants.

Auditing and monitoring

In order to assess suppliers' compliance with this standard, the Norwegian People's Aid will perform audits, which will be carried out either by our own employees or by a third party. We reserve the right to monitor compliance with the standards by performing systematic, unannounced or announced inspections, carried out by Norwegian People's Aid staff or by independent auditors.

Corrective measures and failure to comply

The Norwegian People's Aid expects all of our suppliers and business partners to respect these ethical standards in their operations and production. We are fully aware that all of our expectations cannot be met immediately, but we expect that the supplier will follow up any deviations identified at start-up with concrete corrective measures. If deviations or repeated violations of the standards continue without corrective measures being completed by the supplier, we consider the Norwegian People's Aid to have the right and duty to terminate the cooperation with the supplier.

APPENDIX 2

- Not enter into business arrangements that might prevent the effective operation of fair competition.
- Not engage in deceptive financial practices, such as bribery, double billing or other improper financial practices.

If breach of the Ethical Code of Conduct is discovered, NPA may:

- Reject a proposal to award a contract.
- Declare a supplier ineligible, either indefinitely or for a stated period, to be an NPA registered supplier.
- Cancel or terminate a contract.
- Refer the matter to national authorities through the legal procedure.

APPENDIX 3

NPA'S STANDARD PROCUREMENT TERMS

1. GENERAL

These standard procurement terms are applicable for all forms of supply of goods and services rendered to Norwegian People's Aid, unless different special procurement terms are agreed under the contract entered into and signed by both parties. The supplier is hereby identified as the one to whom the order is addressed to and the contract is entered with. The purchaser is Norwegian People's Aid.

2. BID

Bidding shall be made at no cost to the purchaser. The supplier shall clearly specify any deviation from the invitation to bid. The purchaser has the right to reject or accept any and all bids.

3. PRICE

Unless otherwise agreed, price shall always be quoted in local currency or US Dollar excluding value added tax but can include appropriate packaging cost, customs, tax and other charges; delivery shall be made DDP (Delivery Duty Paid) at the recipients address.

In the event that there is a change regarding tax and other charges, the price can change accordingly, subsequent to an agreement. Any price changes after the signing of the agreement have to be accepted in writing by both parties.

Changes in price due to varying exchange rate between the time of submission of offer, delivery of goods/services and billing for the goods/services will be taken into consideration when it is agreed between the parties and on condition that the supplier has stated in his offer which part of the offer can be affected by exchange variation.

4. FAILURE TO DELIVER

In the event that the supplier fails to deliver the goods or services within the agreed dated, the supplier shall inform the purchaser of the delay in writing within a reasonable time from the date of delivery. The purchaser reserves the right not to be bound by the purchase order, if such information is not given or the purchaser has rejected the delay in writing.

5. DELIVERY

Delivery shall be considered to have taken place when the agreed goods and services are delivered within the time and the terms agreed upon. The supplier shall bear the cost and the risk up to the transfer of the goods in accordance with the agreed terms and conditions. Delivery terms (FOB, FOR etc.) shall be interpreted in accordance with "Incoterms 2020" as provided by the International Chamber of Commerce.

The supplier shall insure that the goods to be delivered are packed with the minimum required packaging in order to avoid damage or deteriorate while transporting to the agreed place of delivery.

The supplied goods shall always be accompanied with all the necessary instruction materials necessary for proper operation and maintenance. It will also include any other documents specified in the purchase order.

The purchaser is obligated to check within reasonable time that the delivered goods/services are delivered in accordance with the purchase order. In case there is a substantial shortage in the delivery or part thereof, the purchaser has the right to reject part of or the whole delivery after giving immediate notice to the supplier.

The part of the delivery reject by the purchaser shall be considered as if the delivery has not taken place. In case the delivery is not rejected in such manner, Para 10. shall be applicable for those items inadequately delivered.

The supplier is obligated to take all the necessary measures in order that the supply/service will be delivered within the agreed time. Where the supplier believes that there will be delay in the delivery of the supplies/services, he will forthwith inform the purchaser the grounds for the delay and the duration of the delay. The Law of Procurement as stated under Para 10.1 shall be applicable.

Unless otherwise agreed and where the supplier, without good cause, fails to deliver the supplies on time, the purchaser shall have the right to claim penalty without justifying lose caused by the delay. The penalty shall be 2 per mil per day of the total value of the purchase order until such time the delivery is made or the service is carried out and can be extended for a period of 15 days. After 15 days, the purchaser is free to cancel the purchase order. The payment of penalty shall not hinder the purchaser from claiming compensation for damages it suffered due to the delay; this is applicable where the damage suffered is higher than the amount paid through the penalty.

6. PAYMENT

Unless agreed otherwise, Norwegian People's Aid effects payment 30 days after delivery of the goods and/or services and receipt of the correct payment voucher along with the agreed attachments. Payment shall not be interpreted as acceptance of the goods and/or services.

In case payment is not effected on due date, interest for late payment shall be paid according to "By-laws regarding interest for delayed payment".

All other forms of penalties due to delay in payment are presumed to be covered under the above-mentioned Law and any other additional penalty will not be accepted.

If the product delivered or the service rendered does not satisfy the requirement or conditions stated in the purchase order, the purchaser has the right to reject all or part of the delivered product or service. In such an event, the supplier shall replace the delivered product or do the necessary correction/change without any extra cost on the purchaser. The fact that the purchaser has accepted the product or service shall not relieve the supplier of his obligations stated in the purchase order. The failure/lack of quality control by the purchaser shall not entail the loss of his rights.

Acceptance by purchaser of delivered product or rendered service shall not be interpreted to include acceptance of hidden defects or shortages in the delivered product or service.

Where the product to be delivered has to fulfil official regulations and/or undergo control and/or obtain approval from the authorities, the supplier has the obligation to fulfil these requirements before delivery takes place in order that the purchaser can put the product directly in use.

This condition does not apply where the use of the purchase order is only as a general reference.

10. RESPONSIBILITY FOR DELAY, DEFECT OR SHORTAGE OF DELIVERY

- 10.1. Unless otherwise agreed regarding breach of contract (delay, shortage or failure), the Norwegian Law on procurement dated 13 May 1998 nr. 27 shall be applicable.
- 10.2. Unless otherwise agreed in the purchase order, the supplier shall bear responsibility for any defect or shortage on the delivered product for up to 12 months after the date of delivery. The supplier shall, soonest within the guarantee period and at his own cost, replace or repair the defective part in such a way that the product is without any defect or shortage. The guarantee period for the product should not be agreed to be less than what is the normal guarantee period for such a product under ordinary sales. This guarantee is valid where the product is properly stored and the defect is not due to normal wear and tear.
- 10.3. Where the product is repaired or replaced as provided under paragraph 10.1 and 10.2, the supplier shall bear similar responsibility for the repaired or replaced products as he has for the originally delivered product. The guarantee period starts running from date of repair or replacement. However, the guarantee period shall not be over 24 months after reparation or replacement was made for the first time.
- 10.4. The supplier shall inform the purchaser in writing every item covered under the guarantee. Where the supplier fails to take the appropriate corrective measure to rectify the defect within the time set by the purchaser, the purchaser has the right to take the appropriate measure to rectify the damage at the cost of supplier without affecting the rights the purchaser has in the contract.

11. PATENT

The supplier shall hold the purchaser harmless against any and all claims arising from third parties related to rights in regards to patent, trademark or industrial design or any other similar claims that could arise due to the use by the purchaser of the products or part thereof.

In case of dispute between the parties regarding the terms and conditions of this contract, the parties shall settle the dispute amicably. Where the dispute cannot be settled amicably, the case shall be settled in a court of law in accordance to Norwegian Law through arbitration. In case the parties agree to settle the dispute through arbitration, the arbitration body should be set up within 14 days after such decision is reached.

The law concerning arbitral settlement of disputes Chapter 32 of Laws on Arbitration shall be applicable. The decision reached by the arbitration body shall be binding and final on the parties.
