Call for Applications for Research Projects with Advocacy or Awareness-Raising Follow-Up Campaigns or Initiatives Addressing LGBTQIA+ Rights in Moldova and Ukraine

ERIM (Equal Rights & Independent Media), a French based organisation, is launching a call for applications for civil society organisations, civil society initiatives, collectives or networks, and research institutions to produce research focused on the contexts, challenges, and dynamics affecting LGBTQIA+ organisations and movements, followed by targeted advocacy and/or awareness-raising campaigns /initiatives directly linked to the research findings.

CONTEXT AND OBJECTIVE

The present call for application is launched by ERIM within the framework of its projects FIER-ES and Democracy in Eastern Partnership (DEAP).

ERIM (Equal Rights and Independent Media) is a not-for-profit organisation based in Lyon, France. Our mission is to promote human rights, strengthen independent media and civil society, develop and maintain democratic, fair and sustainable societies where people enjoy equal rights, have access to independent information and are empowered to build the society they want to live in. ERIM's approach emphasises partnerships with local development organisations to bring about change through training, partnerships, education, research and sub-granting schemes.

- The FIER-ES programme (Fostering the Inclusion, Equality and Resilience of LGBTQIA+ people) aims to support LGBTQIA+ CSOs and initiatives so that they are better able to carry out their mandate and mission and promote respect, inclusion, dignity and equality for LGBTQIA+ people in the Eastern Partnership countries and the Western Balkans. The programme is co-funded by Agence française de développement, coordinated by ERIM and led with its partners Genderdoc – M (Moldova) and the LGBTI Equal Rights Association for Western Balkans and Turkey (ERA).
- Democracy in Eastern Partnership (DEAP) project aims to promote inclusive, resilient and democratic societies in the Eastern Partnership region by strengthening the capacities of civil society and grassroots organisations, supporting research and policy analysis, and organising cultural and networking events to promote the work of human rights defenders. It is funded by the European Union and implemented by ERIM.

Objectives:

In the Eastern Partnership region, organisations defending the rights of LGBTQIA+ people face increasing pressure, disinformation, and hostility. These dynamics directly shape the safety, working conditions, and ability of LGBTQIA+ organisations and initiatives to operate at local and national levels. Within this context, this call aims to:

- Support evidence-based research that documents, analyses, or explores challenges faced by LGBTQIA+ organisations and movements;
- Strengthen the capacity of civil society actors to generate knowledge relevant for advocacy, public debate, and policy discussions;
- Use of research findings to inform, develop and implement targeted advocacy and/or awareness-raising campaigns or initiatives, at local, national, or international level;

- Contribute to a human rights–based understanding and to more informed public and policy discussions related to LGBTQIA+ organisations at the local, national, and regional levels.

SCOPE OF SUPPORTED ACTIONS

Mandatory Component: Research

All proposals must have research as their core component, focusing on issues affecting LGBTQIA+ community and/or LGBTQIA+ civic space. The research should generate evidence, analysis, or insights that can inform advocacy, awareness-raising, local initiatives, or policy discussions at local, national, regional, and/or international levels.

The research component may take one or a combination of the following forms (non-exhaustive):

- Research reviewing policies, laws, and their implementation and services, and how they affect LGBTQIA+ communities or organisations in practice
- Research based on fieldwork, case studies, and direct and meaningful engagement with LGBTQIA+ communities and organisations
- Contextual analysis of structural factors affecting LGBTQIA+ rights and protections
- Case studies or comparative research across regions or municipalities
- Needs assessments or risk analyses related to LGBTQIA+ civic space, including safety, inclusion, and access to rights and services
- Qualitative and/or quantitative research (interviews, surveys, desk research, data analysis, etc.)

Indicative research topics may include, but are not limited to:

- Impact of disinformation, hate speech, or restrictive laws and practices on LGBTQIA+ community and civil society

The research must:

- Be grounded in local realities, attentive to intersecting vulnerabilities, and supported by an appropriate methodology
- Not be substantially implemented at the time of application. Costs incurred before the submission of the application will not be eligible for funding.
- Demonstrate relevance and added value for advocacy, awareness-raising, or local initiatives
- Include an executive summary and actionable recommendations
- Be accessible and usable for civil society actors, decision-makers, and other relevant stakeholders

Required Follow-up Component: Targeted Advocacy or Awareness-raising campaigns or initiatives

In addition to research, proposals must include targeted follow-up actions that are clearly linked to the research findings.

Examples of eligible follow-up actions include (non-exhaustive):

- Dialogues, roundtables, or exchanges with practitioners, experts, or community actors
- Sharing or discussing research findings with relevant stakeholders, including public authorities where appropriate
- Targeted advocacy, awareness-raising, or communication actions, Innovative / original activities are encouraged
- Public, semi-public, or closed discussions and community conversations based on research findings
- Small-scale local or community-based initiatives focused on discussion, awareness raising informed by the research, such as facilitated discussions, community conversations, workshops, or other participatory formats aimed at sharing and reflecting on research findings
- Participation in relevant national, regional, or international fora to present and discuss research findings and recommendations (for example organise a side event or presentation)
- Targeted media or digital campaigns translating research findings into accessible, rights-based messages.
- Publication of the research

GRANT SIZE, DURATION, AND NUMBER

- Maximum grant amount: 10,000 EUR
